The American Association of University Women

Established in 1881

Intersectional.
Inclusive.
Intergenerational.
Empowering.

AAUW advocates to remove the barriers and biases that stand in the way of gender equity in Economic Security and Education.

AAUW was founded in 1881, in Boston, Massachusetts. The Huntsville Branch was chartered in April 1949.

AAUW membership is open to women and men who hold an associate, baccalaureate, or higher degree from a regionally accredited college or university. Undergraduate or graduate students are welcome to become AAUW student affiliates.

AAUW values and seeks a diverse membership. There are no barriers to full participation in the group based on gender, race, creed, age, sexual orientation, national origin, disability, or class.

AAUW Huntsville Branch

The Huntsville Branch of AAUW was chartered in 1949 and was devoted to “intangible areas” of enrichment of the community.

It initiated the tours of historic homes in 1951 to emphasize the rich architectural heritage of the city.

When funds were needed for a new library in 1958, AAUW of Huntsville organized a group known as “Friends of the Library,” which sponsored legislation enabling the city to build it in 1966. That group is still in existence today and provides significant support to the library.

The Huntsville Branch has a rich history of supporting equity and educational issues at the local, state, and national levels and involvement in matters of local and state interest.

AAUW Huntsville currently has three “Interest” groups which include:

- Great Decisions – a foreign policy discussion group
- Lunch.com – a weekly lunch group
- Adelante book discussion group

What we do...

- AAUW members hold monthly meetings with mission-centric programs from September through May focusing on issues of AAUW.
- AAUW holds an annual “Breaking through Barriers” luncheon featuring a speaker of note. In partnership with local universities, we provide scholarships for local college women to attend the National Conference for College Women Student Leaders (NCCWSL).

NCCWSL@aauw.org

- AAUW members participate in training individuals who wish to run for office with Ready to Run™, a state AAUW project.
- AAUW, in conjunction with UAH, supports Tech Trek, a week-long residential STEM immersion camp for rising 8th grade girls from across Alabama. Since 2014, AAUW has helped change girls’ expectations and determination through this summer camp which is backed by research and designed to make STEM exciting.
